Mr. Arthur B. Focke
General Counsel
Bureau of the Budget
Washington 25, D. C.

Dear Mr. Focke:

Mr. McCone has asked me to reply to your letter of 23 April 1962 concerning the proposed Executive Order assigning emergency preparedness functions to the Administrator of General Services.

Executive of Emergency
We have reviewed this proposed order in terms of possible impact which it might have on our interests and responsibilities. In view of the highly sensitive nature of our mission and the resultant security requirements, we have been concerned over the consequences which might flow from having personnel of another agency working in our secure installations or in proximity with our communications facilities.

Representatives of our Agency discussed this matter in detail with Mr. Herbert Jasper and other members of your office and with Dr. Irvin Stewart and Mr. Fred Alexander of the Office of Emergency Planning at a meeting held on 5 June 1962. At this meeting conclusions were reached which, when applied to the wording of the proposed Executive Order, will effect the safeguards which we had in mind. We would, of course, like to review the amended draft prior to giving our formal concurrence.

Sincerely,

Dear Bob:

Following your telephone call, I reviewed my previous action in not favorably considering Mr. [] proposal to establish a project for redefining freedom and democracy. I also talked to Mr. [] at some length. I am still of the opinion that the financing of this project is not something that falls within the immediate responsibilities of the Agency.

STAT

I have suggested to Mr. [] that the most appropriate governmental office to support this project would be the White House. Next I believe would be the Attorney General. Next after that would be the Department of State. As we get any farther down the totem pole, the results of such an endeavor would be more and more suspect. I think I convinced Mr. [] of the merits of this

Dear Bob:

It is with keen regret that I accept your resignation from the Agency, which you desire to become effective at midnight, 15 April 1962.

Your years of dedicated and most able service with Central Intelligence are appreciated by all your associates in the Agency and the intelligence community. All realize the important part you have played in the growth of the Agency since its early days and will miss your day-to-day guidance in many of its activities.

I am sure you will be equally effective in your new position with the Bureau of the Budget and send you my best wishes for your future success.

Yours most sincerely,
